

The Resiliency Toolkit Live:

A Busy Parent's Guide to Raising Happy, Confident, Successful Children

Apply today to enroll in this intimate, 7- part series beta class for parents with school aged children. Using the principles taught in our new Amazon #1 best-selling book, The Resiliency Toolkit: A Busy Parent's Guide to Raising Happy, Confident, Successful Children, you will learn to set successful goals, communicate more effectively, and connect better with your child so she can enjoy a lifetime of success. You may attend on your own, or you may invite your parenting partner or any other support person you wish to attend with you. Your choice. To find out if this experience is for you, ask yourself: 1. Do I have a strong desire to make a significant change in my family? 2. Why is that important to me? What would be the benefits? If you are a parent and would like to be part of this exciting opportunity, please let us know at www.resilientchild.com.
